

Amy Blaisdell
Communications Director
City of Palm Springs
(760) 323-8250

City of Palm Springs Human Rights Commission Seeking Nominations for Annual “Promoting Universal Human Rights Close to Home” Awards; Deadline is Thursday, Dec. 6

Nov. 29, 2018

The Palm Springs Human Rights Commission invites Coachella Valley residents to submit nominations for its annual Community Service Awards that recognize individuals and organizations for “Promoting Universal Human Rights Close to Home.”

Nomination forms and the criteria are available online at www.pshumanrightscommission.com. The deadline for submitting nominations is Thursday, Dec. 6. The awards recognize people and organizations for promoting human rights in our local community. The Commissioners themselves also make nominations.

The Commission is interested in learning about any local citizens or organizations that have worked or volunteered notably to foster equality, ensure rights or have fought against hate crimes or any kind of ethnic, religious, sexual or other types of discrimination. The Commission requests that nominees be from the Coachella Valley. Please submit completed nomination forms to Dale.Cook@palmspringsca.gov

The Commission will present the awards at its Monday, Feb. 11, 2019 meeting which will be held at 5:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall. The public is invited to attend.

The Palm Springs Human Rights Commission is a nine-member commission of volunteer citizens appointed by the City Council for three-year terms. It meets at 3 p.m. on the second Monday of each month in the large conference room at City Hall.

Meetings are open to the public and anyone with a human rights issue or question is invited to participate and speak in the public comment period that begins each meeting.

