Free Presentation on Seniors and Aging Slated for Thursday, May 7 at Mizell Senior Center

April 28, 2015

May is Older American's Month and the Palm Springs Human Rights Commission in partnership with the Riverside County Office of Aging and the Mizell Senior Center will present a series of special events and seminars throughout the month, beginning with a free presentation on Thursday, May 7 about seniors and aging in society today called "We've Come Too Far to be Treated Like This."

The 10 a.m. presentation will be held at the Mizell Senior Center, 480 S. Sunrise Way.

Speakers will include:

- Sandra K. Fitzpatrick, Executive Director of the California Commission on Aging. Fitzpatrick has 36 years of experience in senior services and is well respected statewide as an advocate for older adults and elder justice.
- Michelle Haddock, Director of the Riverside County Office on Aging. Haddock has more than 26 years of experience in the development, administration, and delivery of aging, human, social, and protective services in California.

The event will be interactive with presentations and time for questions. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. and the seminar will be held from 10 a.m. – 11 a.m. For more information, call (760) 323-5689.
