- Do: Follow all rules and guidelines and keep your area maintained.
- Do: Dump garden waste in the appropriate garbage bins at your garden site. Our parks, greenbelts and natural areas are not a place for garden weeds, as weeds can be invasive, destroying our natural vegetation.

About the Community Garden

The Michele Mician Community Garden is located behind the Demuth Community Center (3601 E. Mesquite Ave). It is dedicated to the City's first Sustainability Manager, Michele Mician, who was responsible for bringing the garden to life.

The Community Garden is a piece of land set aside by the City of Palm Springs and maintained by members of the community. It provides interested members of the public with access to garden plots that they can use to grow fresh produce and plants. The experience connects gardeners with the food they eat and facilitates neighborhood improvement, a sense of community, and connection to the environment.

Gardeners have a lot of flexibility in what they can plant. Gardeners are encouraged to plant edible fruits, vegetables, and herbs as well as cutting flowers. Gardeners are prohibited from planting large trees or plants that may shade other plots and from planting invasive species such as nutgrass.
